

Celenia Sánchez Mata was born under the sign of Aquarius in Valencia, Venezuela.

Since her early childhood, she showed a genuine tendency towards different art facets.

Her talents as a singer and performer are clearly evident as she is preceded by a vast experience in the music domain.

Backup singer for Elvis Crespo, has also participated in projects for Sábado Gigante, Olga Tañón, Alejandro Sanz, Dyango, Charlie Sepúlveda, Basilio, Andy Montañez, Armando Manzanero, Carlos Vives, María Marta Sierra Lima, Tito Puente Jr., Wilkins, Vico C and Rosario Flores, among others.

Celenia keeps performing as head of her own band INDIGO, playing the most diverse music genres in different languages. She performs in hotels, cruise lines and other stages in Puerto Rico, where she resides.

Celenia has recorded two past CDs as a solo artist.

Also, as lead vocalist for the Latin rock band PLAZA 5, receiving the Paoli Awards 2008 for Best Latin Folk Rock Band. They are working on their first music video.

Her quality as a performer shows...

Her melodious voice charms...